

My songs are true as songs can be; they are about Preachers that eat darkness the way we eat cherries or crab cakes.

My songs are about how church of god preachers in my live, swallowed babies souls.

My songs are about Babies mothers being drugged with words and then having their souls dismembered by serial sex offenders and Baby sellers in the name of God

My songs about evil that only lives in the light of others

My songs can only stop the darkness that eats Babies' souls if you share them

My songs are my prayers
Linking them creates my life story
